Company Policy/ Statement on GDPR

From the 25th May 2018 the New General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) legally takes affect.

GDPR imposes additional obligations on Organizations and gives Customers / Suppliers / Staff extra rights around how Allmed uses their Data This new legislation increases the privacy rights of organisations/individuals by putting further control on the collection,usage,storage,security and destruction of data.

Allmed contacted all Customers and Suppliers on File at 25.05.2018 as to the information we currently have on File for them We requested that any Customer or Supplier that wanted us to delete the information we have on file for them to contact us and request same.

Allmed collects data from customers and suppliers so that we can legitimately trade with their business to fulfill our duties as a service provider of freight forwarding services

Staff in Allmed will not share customer / supplier personal details with third parties without getting consent from customers / suppliers.

Data is stored electronically and is firewalled and secured with latest anti-virus software available. Our I.T. Systems are supported by an External I.T. Company who have measures in place to ensure cyber threats and security is kept up to date

Our Data is all backed up and stored in a Server in-house and also on an external server for security and would only be used for restoring purposes by Allmed.

Allmed will hold data as long as is legally necessary to comply with company laws and regulations. Once data is no longer required to be kept on file - accounts will be closed on our Accounts Software.

Should any Customer / Supplier / Staff Member wish to request what information we hold or need any other information please do not hesitate to contact the undersigned by post or email : gdpr@allmed.ie
